VICTORIAN PERIODICALS REVIEW: IMPORTANT. INFORMATIVE. INFLUENTIAL.

Kathryn Ledbetter, Editor, TEXAS STATE UNIVERSITY

The only refereed journal that concentrates on the editorial and publishing history of Victorian Periodicals, Victorian Periodicals Review (VPR) emphasizes the importance of periodicals for an understanding of the history and culture of Victorian Britain, Ireland, and the Empire. Since its humble origins in the 1960s, the Review has evolved into a review with an annual index, member questionnaires, and one of a projected series of guides to major research libraries and their holdings, list of forthcoming articles, and informative articles. The official journal of the Research Society for Victorian Periodicals.

Published quarterly, Volume 43 (2010).

CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS - Between Poetry and Philosophy

What, today, is happening in the space of this between? Mosaic invites submissions for a special issue on the poetry-philosophy relation, an issue that will focus on contemporary re-writings of the historical logos/mythos opposition, thus that will bring the question of writing itself to the fore. We are interested in a wide range of approaches to the movement between poetry and philosophy essays that explore the work of a particular writer - poet or philosopher - and/or that deal with such topics as form, the university, pedagogy, sensation, embodiment, gesture, voice, speech, rhythm, the political. Deadline for submissions: May 17, 2010. For submission guidelines please visit our website.
